State Milk Commission Sets Public Hearing

The Virginia State Milk Commission will hold a public hearing on Thurs., March 21, at 10 a.m. in the auditorium of the State High Department, 1221 East Broad St., Richmond.

The hearing is to consider actions taken by the Commission under the emergency provisions of the Administrative Agencies Act on Feb. 11, 1974. On the basis of a conference held on Feb. 7, the Commission voted to raise the prices paid to dairy farmers to $11.15 per hundredweight in the Eastern and Western Markets and to $10.96 in the Southwestern. The previous prices had been $10.23 and $10.01 respectively. The Commission also voted to suspend all wholesale and retail price controls of those products it still regulates.

At the time of this action the Commission set wholesale and retail price controls only on containers holding one quart or more of whole or low-fat milk. Since its latest action there have been no price controls at the wholesale or consumer level on any fluid Grade A dairy product.

Emergency actions by state administrative agencies cannot remain in effect longer than 60 days, unless reaffirmed after the holding of a public hearing.

The Commission asks that persons wishing to testify on the price dairy farmers receive for raw milk, or on the question of whether the Commission should continue its suspension of wholesale and retail price controls, plan to testify at the March 21 public hearing.

New Pond Booklet

Ponds and how to build, maintain and use them are the subject of a new U. S. Department of Agriculture publication.

The 14-page illustrated booklet "Building a Pond," prepared by the Soil Conservation Service, gives advice on selecting and preparing a site, kinds of man-made ponds, satisfactory pond spillway requirements, sealing leaky ponds, recommended safety measures, and maintaining completed ponds.

The various uses of ponds for livestock, fire protection, fishing recreation, irrigation and wildlife habitat also are discussed in the booklet.

Single copies are available from the local USDA Soil Conservation Service office at Appomattox, Virginia.

In Memoriam

Mrs. Annie Gallier entered into eternal rest one year ago, March 16.

Tenderly we nursed and cared for her
Trying in vain to restore her health
And prayed that she might longer stay.
Which to us meant more than wealth,
No one knows the silent heartache,
Only those who have lost can tell,
Of the grief that is borne in silence.
For the one we loved so well.
